Pet Food Pantry—The Pet Food Pantry is open Fridays from 2-4 p.m. at the Center for Humane Education. That building is located on the west side of the NHS campus, behind Walgreens. This pantry can help tide over pet owners who have fallen on hard times. No appointment is needed. Food is distributed free of charge on a first-come, first-served basis.

Project Pet Safe—Provides temporary, safe housing of the companion animals of domestic abuse victims while those individuals work with an advocate to leave an abusive situation. Thanks to generous supporters, we work to arrange free, short term housing for these pets until they can be reunited with their loving owners. For more information about Project Pet Safe, e-mail pps@nehumanesociety.org or call 402-681-0781.

*Animeals: Once a month, shelter volunteers load up and deliver free pet food to any senior, with a licensed companion animal, who qualifies for Meals on Wheels. *ShelterMe Nebraska: <https://www.sheltermenebraska.org/about-us> A companion animal can often become a tool for an abusive partner to hold power and control in the relationship. If contemplating leaving a bad relationship, the question of what will happen to a companion animal can become an important deciding factor. There is a gap in community services which provide care for the companion animals of domestic violence victims. ShelterMe Nebraska is committed to treating every victim and companion animal with respect and dignity by providing rehabilitative services through safe and secure housing.
